1	This was the best class I took all semester. Very fun and interesting to breach the surface of American Politics and how it works. It was the ideal (or at least my ideal) college class.
2	This class was very interesting and it opened my eyes to some of the inner workings of American politics. Challenging my writing and analytic abilities, I learned valuable skills from this class. It served as a great introductory course.
3	Very engaging course (professor).
4	The material of this course was very straightforward and could be boring at times, but the professor made the class interesting. The content was relevant, and I can see why it is a mandatory political science course. It was a good foundational class for a minor or major in political science.

1	The best professor I had all semester. He knows the content very well and takes a neutral stance on the topics which creates interesting discussions on the material that encourages everyone to express their opinions.
2	The instructor of this class was very knowledgeable in Political Science and that made the class enjoyable. It was clear that the instructor cared about the well-being of his students. I liked how he encouraged everyone in the class to participate and made it easy to do so.
3	Always available outside of class to help, great teacher, showed his love of politics
4	Michael truly cares about his students. He wants to see them succeed both in and outside of the classroom and definitely exceeds expectations I have for most of my teachers.
5	Michael Hansen was awesome! Really enjoyed taking this course despite prior fear of the subject.

6 He was a very good professor and knew how to explain the material very well

7 Awesome professor. He is straightforward, and his instructions are clear. He is very knowledgeable and made the course interesting. I could not have asked for a better professor to conclude my time here at Marquette, and he is an asset to the political science program.
