

Mark Adams' Story
On Schaeffer Cox

What's Still Needed:

Page #:

- 2 You may want to add the 2009 FBI reports that more or less say "we need to find a way to shut this guy up."
- 7 Add 9th Circuit Betty Fletcher slam of Bottini/Polar Pen for hiding evidence. U.S. v. Kohring, 637 F.3d 895.
- 13 FBI Agent Chad Joy was "investigated" and fired by Bottini for blowing the whistle (Schulke Report, page 40 and 155).
- 22 Cox visit to Ft. Wainwright MP station: The FBI showed up 5 minutes after Cox left the MP station, not "the next day." It was the U.S. Marshals who showed up "the next day." Also, Cox had worked at Ft. Wainwright for a few years, so going there seemed natural.
- 23 The Golden Valley Electric guys, like Lance Roberts and others, who the FBI told boogeyman rumors to about Cox knew Cox because Cox did right-of-way maintenance for powerlines. They knew Cox was a good person. They referred work to each other and coordinated jobs. When the crews were working on powerlines on Cox's side of town they would stop at Cox's home and Cox would make them lunch. The FBI did not consider this before they went around spreading lies.
- 26 The threats to get Gibson fired if he testified for the defense were very explicit. Follow up with him on this. Also, several MP's took the FBI's warning and refused to testify. This severely hurt the defense. But those MP's kept their jobs.
- 29 "... Informants tried to goad Cox into planning acts of violence in response to the PENDING efforts by OCS to remove his son Seth." (Add the word "pending.")
- 30 Point out that AUSA Steve Cooper came to trial to testify for the defense. But when asked about the conversation where Cox took him to lunch and warned him that Fulton and Bennett were pushing for senseless violence, Skrocki objected and the yes-man judge would not let Cooper testify further. See DKT 643 filed 8-13-13, page 7 through 10, "COOPER DIRECT."

- 31 After describing the "Two-tier operation" (i.e. threaten Seth to create the motive, then send in Fulton to supply the means) you need to point out that Fulton and Bennett resorted to violent coercion, not after the fact, but WHILE OCS was hunting us down looking for Seth, refusing to follow their own policies, stonewalling our lawyer (RJ), and BEFORE we could get into court about it. Marti and Schaeffer were scrambling to peacefully resolve the issue. The Feds were scrambling to stampede Cox into a "crime" of passion and desperation to protect his child from politically driven FBI/OCS aggression. Have RJ get you the transcripts or audio CD of the hearing where it all get resolved. It all came out on the record. Rollie may have it too. It's supposed to be sealed.
- 31 JR Olson was not a Hell's Angel. He was only a "prospect" with a prospect "HA" tattoo.
- 31 The FBI informants never pushed Cox to plot "revenge." They pushed to "take out the ones who are coming to take Seth." After that failed and it was resolved by RJ in court, they pushed for a preemptive strike on "the ones who are coming to get you (Cox)." That's when Cox left.
- 35 (Comment Page 8) The jury only had about 90 minutes of audios, not 5 hours. And those 90 minutes were made up of 30 second to 2 minute clips that omitted all exculpatory sections, and were out of context so as to be misleading.
- 36 Trumped-up weapons charge trial was February 14th (not 19th).
- 36 Skrocki not only lied to the jury, he lied and gave false statements -- that we can prove he knew were false at the time he gave them -- to the judge to sway his decision on pretrial motions. Read Skrocki's knowing and intentional acts of highly calculated preemptive deceit at: 3:11-CR-00022-RJB, DKT 593 filed 3-18-13, page 52 through 54 where he claims only two informants. Find more Skrocki lies to the judge at 3:11-CR-00022-RJB DKT 365 filed 5-03-12 coincidentally also page 52 through 58. Also at DKT 366 Page 87 and 125.
- 37 Be clear when you say that Cox didn't show up for the 2-14-11 trumped-up weapons charge trial, that the reason he could not show up was Fulton's death-threat-ultimatum made against Cox coupled with his promise to go on a rampage through Fairbanks triggered by Cox going to court.
- 37 "Unbeknownst to Schaeffer, Olson disabled their vehicle..." is not accurate. Cox knew Olson took the battery, he knew he was stranded. Olson said he was going to get a replacement, but never did.
- 37 You need to point out that Cox and his family weren't "on the lam." They were being kept against their will for 21 days in an attic by Olson who had disabled their car, promised the false trucker, and came by every day to remind the Cox family to stay hidden because Fulton and Bennett were searching all over town for them. To which Cox exclaimed, "To kill me!" I believe this "kill me" statement was on February 21st or maybe March 4th. You'll have to ask Rollie. There may be some clues in the Objections to the Presentence Report (PSR) 3:11-CR-00022-RJB DKT 535 filed 12-26-12. It's UNDER SEAL but Maria has it.

- 37 Cox and his family had no intention to go to Montana. They were headed to Canada.
- 37 It's Coleman Barney, not Barney Coleman. Barney is the last name.
- 38 Cox and Barney never agreed to buy the silencers Olson was pushing. But even if they had, it still would not be illegal because Olson had said the silencers were "legit" and for sale by a licensed Class 3 dealer. See 3-11-11 Audios in Olson's truck and Skrocki's admission (followed by a lie) at DKT 365 Page 54. But despite all this Cox still told Olson to send the stuff back to whoever he got it from.
- 39 The Armed Security detail at KJNP was on the same street as Aaron Bennett's house (about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile away). Bennett had said he would kill Cox for refusing to get on board with violently attacking the government. The security was for fear of Bennett.
- 39 February 12th, Cox made the decision not to appear at court because on February 6th Olson had relayed Fulton's death-threat-ultimatum and said he planned to use the court appearance as an excuse for violence. Cox had to no-show, or risk setting Fulton into a rage. Cox had already told both AUSA Cooper and Trooper Ron Wall about Fulton and Bennett and nothing happened. Cox's only options were fight or flight. For the sake of his family, Cox chose flight.
- 42 It is not correct to say that "Informant Olson recorded the entire conversation..." on 2-19-11. Olson had a recorder he could turn on and off in his pocket, which he did. He would switch it off, then try to prime the conversation, then switch it on again. This way he could conceal the fact that he always made the initial pitch. This is crooked, but we still uniformly rejected his suggestions. You can hear it start and stop. Also, the elapsed time on the recording is several minutes less than the time from turning it on, and when the meeting was over and it got turned off. This indicates a missing section.
- 42 "LEO" stands for Law Enforcement Officer, not "Elected Officials."
- 43 Mike Anderson and "the list" of certain government individuals was not a "hit list" of people Cox wanted to murder. Actually, just the opposite is true. After OCS baselessly attacked Seth, and the MP's told Cox that the U.S. Marshals planned to kill him to "fix the Schaeffer Cox problem," Cox asked several people, including Anderson, how many law enforcement agencies and personnel were in Fairbanks and who might be out to kill him and why. Cox simply wanted to figure out who was NOT corrupt in town, who he could trust, and who was going around bragging about how they were going to murder him.

Here we have a case of the Feds falsely accusing Cox of the very thing they themselves were doing -- sneaking around trying to set up an opportunity to gun down an innocent man just because he is a political rival. Nowhere ever does Cox say to kill people on (or off) a list. This is purely the government projecting their own guilt.

- 44 Here the story under "PRISON" reads "...there was no legitimate law enforcement purpose in electronically recording, investigating, surveilling, and attempting to rig illegal transactions with Schaeffer Cox in response to his protected free speech that was critical of the government." You need to add the transcript of FBI Agent Westerhaus when Bill Fulton recorded him and asked him, "So, why are we going after Schaeffer Cox?" And Westerhaus replies without missing a beat, "Because he's been talking too much smack about the government." Rollie Port has this clip. So does Maria Rensel.
- 48 Referring to Norm Olson and "some other guy named Ray," Ray Southwell is Norm's best friend and neighbor.
- 54 "Klein-Gate." You point out that the government "never even called Fulton as a witness." They also never called SA Sandra Klein, even though she was the supervisor of the Joint Terrorism Task Force, aka "JTTF" (DKT 365, Page 72) and, I believe, the real case agent, NOT SA Southerland as we were led to believe. It was HER and FULTON's case! Why all of the sudden exclude both of them from the process? To help hide evidence! This habit is exposed in the Schuelke Report which scolds these very prosecutors for their entrenched pattern and practice of weaseling their way out of their disclosure obligations anytime they came up against evidence that either helped the defendant or hurt the prosecution. They did this by cooking up ridiculously hokey and legally unsound excuses to tell to themselves about why it was okay for them to NOT turn over evidence that any reasonable mind knows the law requires to be turned over. Among the goofy internal excuses were: "The evidence of Bill Allen's soliciting perjury in a related case was based mostly on attorney argument so it's not subject to disclosure," and "That evidence shows innocence under this theory of the case but not necessarily under this other theory of the case, so therefore, in our judgment it is 'IMMATERIAL' so we're not going to disclose it," and "We are not planning to call that agent to testify in our case in chief, so any evidence related to her that hurts the prosecution or helps the defense is no longer 'MATERIAL,'" and "The evidence of misconduct is beyond the scope of questioning we (the government) plan to examine this agent on, so it's no longer MATERIAL." None of these type of excuses held water once they were no longer secret. The Judge didn't buy them. OPR didn't buy them. Schuelke didn't buy them. The only people who bought them were the Polar Pen gangsters who used them as a wink and a nod to each other as they illegally hid evidence so they could send innocent people -- who they KNEW were innocent -- to prison!

We got only a tiny bit of discovery relating to Klein and Fulton, all of which was incidental to discovery coming from other agents and informants. And even that had whole sections blacked-out. The motherload of discovery about Klein and Fulton, what evidence they collected, and what misconduct they engaged in, is still being illegally concealed! For a glimpse at the disingenuous excuses Skrocki, Lamoureux, and Bottini used to rationalize their crime of hiding evidence related to Klein and Fulton, see the following lies to the court: DKT 365 Page 81 and 83 (object to question "When did law enforcement start to focus on Mr. Vernon?"). DKT 366 Page 144 (Skrocki objects to question that would reveal Klein was observing Olson and Fulton in Anchorage on February 4th 2011). DKT 366 Page 150 (SA Southerland intentional ignorance of J.R. Olson's prior crimes). DKT 366 Page 160 (SA Southerland leaves out J.R. Olson's conviction for evidence tampering when the Judge asks him a direct question).

DKT 594 Page 78 through 83 (AUSA Ms. Lamoureux claims all evidence relating to Fulton and Klein is irrelevant because the government "NO LONGER PLANS TO CALL THE WITNESSES.") DKT 594 Page 87 (Lamoureux says the government wants the defense to give "some sort of proffer regarding those legitimate reasons [to call Fulton as a witness]" before he can be called. They are just hiding their sins! Also note that on page 88 the judge says regarding Fulton, "I don't know who that is. Is he -- like -- I don't care who it is. Is he, like, within your custody and control, like, within your custody and control, like a federal agent or a prisoner in a prison, or is he just some citizen?" Then Lamoureux lies to the judge. She starts to tell the truth -- that "He was a confidential source for Agent Klein" -- but didn't finish her sentence. Instead, she switches to the lie, "He is a private citizen." This is not true! He was working this case under FBI direction and on the government's payroll. What Ms. Lamoureux did was lie to the judge so as to deprive him of the facts that were essential for him to make a proper and informed determination as to whether or not those 60 out of 80 redacted pages were relevant to the case. The judge ruled to leave the 60 redacted pages redacted. But he did so thinking that Fulton was just "a private citizen." For all the judge knew, Fulton could be Klein's significant other. In which case nothing they talked about should be relevant at all. However, Fulton was Klein's informant, and Klein was the supervisor of JTTF, so almost anything they did or didn't say is relevant in one way or another. But whatever is in those redactions is bad enough for the government that the Polar Pen gang decided to drop the supervising agent and main informant as witnesses, then lie to the judge to keep from having to hand it over. But dropping Fulton and Klein as witnesses DOES NOT make their misconduct during the investigation irrelevant. Unless, of course, you are Polar Pen gangsters who make up your own crooked rules as you go and cross your fingers to not get caught. Lamoureux did mumble in a low voice that "we just -- he -- yes, he was an informant in this case." But she said it so quiet that the hard-of-hearing judge didn't hear it. She surely said "he is a private citizen" loud and clear, looking the judge in the eyes, and in response to the judge's direct question "is he just some private citizen?" The judge did not hear Lamoureux's muffled post-lie confession that Fulton was an informant. Instead, he thought she was asking him for a specific ruling and indicated this with his question that followed her paper shuffling mumble. You should read all of DKT 594 and see how many times the judge says he can't hear or didn't understand.

55 BU = BUreau, i.e., FBI.

56 When referencing Tea Party targeting you may want to touch on the "Because he's talking smack about the government" comment from FBI Westerhaus who works for this very same "public integrity unit" of DOJ you refer to. Tie this in. See 3:11-CR-00022-RJB DKT 365 filed 05-03-12 Page 130, Westerhaus -- Direct "I investigate public corruption," "I was in Washington D.C." He also is the agent who filed the "Time Machine Warrant" on 2-19-11 early in the morning which impossibly claimed to describe events that "happened" later that day.

56 Show here that J. Bottini, who prosecuted Stevens, was co-prosecutor on the Cox case. See DKT 365 Pages 3 and 4.

- 57 Under "Public Integrity" Section: A Cancer of Corruption, you may want to track down Senator Lisa Murkowski's comments on NPR where she said "these prosecutors are cheats and liars and I think everyone is going to be shocked when the truth finally comes out in the Schaeffer Cox case."
- 64 Hopefully this will tie back into Schaeffer Cox sitting in a secret CMU prison, rotting away as an innocent man, and call for his release and punishment of the crooks who put him there.
