"All These Letters"

- Bob Smilie says he just watched the video "Liberty Advocate Framed by FBI - The Schaeffer Cox Story" by Michael Badnarik and Rick Was. He also said he's handing out lots of business cards in North Texas. I hope you all get a constitutional sheriff. One of those can really protect the people if they don't sell out.

Bob wanted me to suggest some slogans for his street activism in support of FISA.org and Jury Nullification. I knew I could have fun with this. Here we go:

"No victim = No crime"

"In a free country you get hauled into court for a crime of injury against your neighbor. In NOT FREE country you get hauled into court for a crime of disobedience against the government."

"Starv the Beast, acquit your neighbor."

"Local 217 Police Union 'We show up early to beat the crowds!'"

"Only YOU can legalize freedom"

"Judges are paid actors"

"One juror can veto tyranny"

"Mercy is YOUR job"

"If you want justice, go to a warehouse.
If you want to get screwed, go to a court house."

"If there's no victim, the defendant IS the victim."

"Judges have no compassion or common sense.
Jurors do."

"Veto Tyranny"

"They want YOUR permission to ruin a life."

"You are someone's only hope."

"The lawyers Union and judges are just shaking people down for money and creating bogus jobs for prison guards. And they won't stop until YOU stop them."

"Each juror is morally liable"

"A jury is 12 independent judges"

"The evils committed in spite of 'authority' are trivial compared to the evils committed in the name of 'authority'." - Larken Rose.

- Lisa Bennett was excited to write me. She said she's glad I haven't lost my humor even in this bad place. Yah. The humor is always the last thing to go. That's why insane people are such a riot. Ha ha ha. She asks if I have a photographic memory. With some things I do, with mechanical things and with architecture. When I was designing and building homes in Alaska I could always picture complex framing and structural details and remember them. It saved me a lot of time. I guess that photographic, because I actually see it. But I couldn't spell correctly even if you had a gun to my head. I don't know why. I'm well read. I have a natural talent for writing. But I spell like a 2nd grader. I told my secretary, Liz, that bad spelling is how I authenticate my documents. If it's all spelled right, suspect it's a fraud!

She asked for my thoughts on the Bundy Ranchers and the Native Americans protesting the pipeline in North Dakota. I think these cowboys and Indians need to figure out that they're on the same side! The Globalists are the real enemy.

They've betrayed all of humanity, including their own humanity. They chose control and power for themselves at the expense of prosperity and advancement for the whole human race. They'd rather be lords over a starving slum planet than equals on a planet of dignified, self-reliant free people.

The Globalists know in their little black hearts that they are weak. They suspect that they couldn't make it in a world where everyone was free to prosper and thrive like people naturally do. So they desperately cling to the system that stunts human dreams and potential. That's the kind of person you're looking at when you look at a judge, or a media talking face, or a bureaucrat. They've dropped out of humanity.

But I'll tell you who hasn't dropped out of humanity; The Bundys, The Tribes in North Dakota, Bob Smilie with his jury posters, Rudy with his YouTube videos, Gavin Seim with his traveling truth talks, and anyone else who'd rather take their chances than be a slave.

God bless you all. Freedom is not just our optional right. It's our duty! We owe it to the legacy of Mankind. We owe it to our Creator, who gave us freedom as a gift, to defend and keep that gift.

I agree that Global Warming is a crock. It's just a hollow excuse to set up a world wide tax, and selectively choke people out who aren't humanity drop-outs like the Globalists. Just look at how China is putting the lie to use. They're starving out rural mountain farmers because "yack farts stopped the rain" (I'm not joking. Look it up) while at the same time opening dozens of new coal fired powerplants every quarter.

It's not crazy. It's psychological warfare. The more absurd and contradictory their dictates are, the more demoralized and ashamed of yourself you'll be when you comply. And that's what they want - YOU DEMORALIZED AND FULL OF SHAME.

That's what TSA is about - making people take their shoes and clothes off to implant a submissive, vulnerable self image in to America's upper middle class so they won't get any ideas about telling the drop-outs to back the Hell off and respect humanity, OR ELSE.

The Drop-outs are the ones behind the attack on gender roles too. They slut-shame women for being sexy and seductive. Seduction is where women's power comes from. The Drop-outs want women powerless. They brow beat men for being aggressive, masculine, and dauntless. Fearless courage and take-charge leadership is where men's power comes from. The Drop-outs want men powerless. They want a woman to be nothing but a drab utilitarian work horse who's alienated the men who would pursue her. They want men to be domesticated, feminized chumps who don't dream and never rock the boat. The Drop-outs want us to betray our humanity, waste our lives in mind numbing busy work, and stand in line for a hand out - FROM THEM!

Well, Well! They've got another thing coming! They want get that out of me. Not even in 30 years of torture.

I highly recommend a stint in prison for every American who wants to truly understand how the world works. If you can make it into the CMU, all the better. But it's kind of an exclusive neighborhood.

What makes prison such a powerful education experience is that it's a world where the government - The Drop-outs - get their way on absolutely everything. They also get to operate out of sight, behind high concrete privacy walls. Governments let their hair down and show their true colors inside their own prisons. And once you've seen it with your own eyes, their lies

(7)

Will never work on you ever again.
Because you saw how the government acts "in the privacy of their own home!" That's what prison is, the government's home, set up just the way they like it.

For those of you who go there, you'll see what I mean. Then you'll spot the similarities out in society. That's when you'll realize that it's do-or-die and you'll become a fearless champion.

I'm not even putting a dent in this stack of letters, but I'll keep at it. More Later,

- Schaeffer Cox
