

How we chose our business location

Choosing our business location was definitely a choice of the heart because of what the land means to me...

This land is more than just land to me. It has meant different things to me at various stages in my life. When I was just a little girl it represented the place where mama and papa's warm embraces and loving kisses existed. When I got a little older, it represented fun on the farm with all the miniature horses and my first puppy pal, Old Yeller. As I grew up and moved to college, it was a little slice of home that allowed my soul to relax and recharge while watching the sunset and drinking sweet tea with family. This land has played a role in some of the best parts of my past, and I believe it will also play a role in some of the brightest parts of my future.

We bought this 5 acre piece of property from my grandparents, Joyce and Bub Baker. My grandparents used to have a large miniature horse farm, and they also housed many other animals including miniature goats, chickens and cows. I loved showing miniature horses and going out to help "papa" do chores at a young age. On this land is where my love for animals started...It's where I totally fell in love with caring for animals. This land has been family land for many years, first owned by my great great grandfather, William "Bill" Edward Baker. My grandparents decided to call this land home in 1996. Now, my fiancé, Cory Huffmon, and I plan to do the same. We have decided to start our business and also build the house we will grow old in on this 5 acre lot...right across the road from my grandparent's house.

This land is a little slice of heaven...a place of warmth and natural beauty. This land represents love and it represents family. This land is home to me and I hope it's a home away from home for all your fur babies as well...A place they can feel warm, safe and loved.
