

Meet UP Speak OUT - Frequently Asked Questions

[This is pretty new, so I don't know what kind of questions there will be. Here's a shot at answering a few.]

Is Meet UP Speak OUT affiliated with any other organizations?

No. See the "I'm Just a Girl" section of the website.

If I attend one of the dates, will you provide lodging?

Anyone who attends is responsible for their own lodging for the time they are in DC.

Can anyone attend?

This is a true meet up situation. If you are so moved to be there, you are welcome.

What are we going to do?

We're going to stand in front of the White House as a visible citizen presence making our voices heard.

What issues are you focusing on?

I'll be focusing on a different issue each month, depending on what's going on at the time. I encourage anyone who shows up to have a sign that reflects their personal concerns. Signs are not mandatory – you can just show up to support the effort!

Do I have to agree with you on all issues?

No, everyone has a unique outlook. I do ask that anyone who joins this meet up treat others with respect, especially those with different opinions. This is meant to be a forum for exercising our First Amendment rights in positive, meaningful engagement. I'm choosing to focus on values and issues, not on personal attacks.

Will there be snacks?

I'm certain I'll have some trail mix and a few waters, but BYOS just in case.
