

IN SUPPORT OF SCHAEFFER COX. April 1, 2017

In understanding Schaeffer Cox's appeal process we must continue to understand the failures and corruption within the DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE. Both collectively and individually. For it is assumed they follow the laws in prosecuting so-called criminals. They do not and have demonstrated a "long train of abuses" which our Declaration of Independence speaks about concerning England in 1776. Which also holds true today in 2017, concerning the DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

So I will continue to discuss the "long train of abuses" from our federal DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE behavior.

As our Declaration of Independence declares:

"Prudence, indeed will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed."

It was true in 1776 and it remains true in 2017

There has been much fanfare concerning the abusive behavior of local police departments at the state and community levels along with the failures of local Department of Justices. We are told and have witnessed the brutality of local police individuals on minorities. Just ask your friends of color.

And the Federal DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE intervenes to bring "justice" to those who have been assaulted by local cops.

And who protects the people from Federal cops? At the very least it should be at the state level. But it is not allowed by the DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

And when a sitting US Senator begs for Justice, there is none.

Alaska Senator Dan Sullivan and Alaska's Attorney General Craig Richards public comment last year. (Richards resigned last summer)-

"As many Alaskans know, the state still hasn't fully recovered from the corruption scandal that beginning in 2006 rocked the state and sowed the seeds of mistrust between the people and their government. Certain prior actions by the U.S.

Department of Justice -- the most powerful guardian of justice in our country -- have contributed to that lingering mistrust. However, there is a new opportunity for U.S. Attorney General Loretta Lynch to right past wrongs.”

You can read their entire comments here-

<https://www.adn.com/commentary/article/alaska-must-have-clear-path-pursue-justice-young-women-allen-case/2016/03/17/>

Where are the checks and balances?

As A child, I was made to believe, this nation was great because of the many checks and balances we have within our government. I believed it for decades. The Ruby Ridge incident and Waco was my epiphany that our established checks and balances have disappeared. Washington dictates the terms of our justice or better yet injustice.

Schaeffer and I had two primary areas of common ground. Our belief in salvation through Jesus Christ our Lord and savior and understanding our community safety is a local responsibility.

We also had common ground with our Baptist church background. Both of us grew up in a Baptist church. We both knew Les Zerbe. (Who would become a leader in his Fairbanks militia.) I first met Les Zerbe on a visit to Alaska in 2001. Just a year before my wife and I moved to Alaska. It would be many years later before I would meet the young Mr. Cox.

I asked Schaeffer how a young man could have such a clear understanding of what was happening throughout our nation. I was in my 40's before I understood.

He explained he was Homeschooled and did not need to unlearn the false narrative given to students in public school.

It resonated with me. For after the Ruby Ridge and Waco incidence I went on a long study of our nation's history, never told in the public school I attended in Detroit.

Schaeffer and I are brothers in Christ. I love him as a brother perhaps more like a son. Proud to call him a friend. I would trade places with him if I could. For he should be home with his family.

But that is foolish thought. A waste of discussion time.

I will continue to share my thoughts on the corrupt conviction of my brother, in Christ, Schaeffer Cox.

Signed Ray Southwell, Nikiski Alaska.

Alaska must have clear path to pursue justice for young women in Allen case

OPINION: Justice demands that Alaska get green light to pursue Mann Act case against Bill Allen.

www.adn.com