

Cost...

I have seen some of the other products that are in the marketplace. While I think the basic engineering is OK, I have made some mechanical as well as cosmetic improvements to my products. I believe (and I hope you agree) my pricing is in line with the quality and service I provide. I have measurements and pricing for the most common wine coolers. If you do not have one of those, if you send me the necessary dimensions I will be happy to quote pricing for you. Around the first of the month that your order will be completed in I will send out an order acknowledgement/invoice that will detail the parts of your order. You can send payment at that time. I prefer a check or money order. If more convenient, PayPal is also acceptable but be advised that if you are using PayPal, you will need to cover any transaction fees. For custom orders, i.e. hardwood or veneered drawer fronts, a 50% deposit is required.
