The Fine Print

Can I overdose? No. CBD is similar to Vitamin C, if you take too much, it passes through you. Start small, but take as much as needed. Some people only need 5mg, some need 150mg. It is entirely based on your relief point.

Can I take with other medications? CBD is not known to interact with any prescription drugs. Always check with your physician before adding any dietary supplement to your daily routine. Please note: if you use THC, CBD is known to lessen a “high”.

Proprietary Information - All of our products contain proprietary formulas. All rights are reserved on our logos, labeling and packaging, and cannot be reproduced without our expressed consent.

Quality Assurance - Our products have been created from organic materials whenever possible. We take quality seriously and we take the guesswork out of buying CBD online. Every batch of our products are tested by third party laboratories, using cutting edge technology, to ensure the following:

- Our products contain pure and very potent CBD.
- There are no metals, pesticides, herbicides, fungi or other dangerous mycotoxins in any of our products.
- You can trust our labels for accurate ingredients and information, including the number of milligrams of CBD you are purchasing.

Lab Testing - We send every batch of each product for 3rd party testing. You may request lab reports at any time.

THC FREE Guarantee - Our products contain less than .3% THC, and are legal in all 50 states. Many of our customers across the country take drug tests for their jobs.

Money Back Guarantee - Try any product for 30 days. Not satisfied? We refund you in full. No questions asked.

Compassion Rates - We offer discounted compassion rates if you have someone with a life-threatening or life-altering condition, who may benefit from CBD. Please contact us directly to learn more.
